2.2 - Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 - The institution assesses students' learning levels and organises special programmes for both slow and advanced learners.

The college continuously assesses the different learning levels of the students and organises special programmes for advanced and slow learners.

At the commencement of the academic year, the college organises Induction program for fresher students. This induction program helps students to get familiarised with the college, curricular and cocurricular activities, academic calendar, rules and regulations and facilities like central/departmental library, laboratories, computer centre, gymnasium, sports centre etc. During the induction program, the students are assigned mentors (Mentor-Mentee ratio of 1:25) to do entry level analysis of each student in the college. The mentor maintains a student profile that details the student's academic, socio-economic background, interests and talents. This practice is an effective tool to analyse the diverse requirements of students and suggest relevant measures for their upliftment through regular counselling/mentoring.

The college conducts bridge courses for the newly joined students at the commencement of every academic year. The course acts as a buffer for the new entrants and bridges the gap between concepts studied at the intermediate level and the concepts to be studied in the UG level.
